900 Degrees New Fall Menu!

Besides experiencing Priscilla's tour of Italy by reading her series of articles (first one is below!), you are cordially invited to taste your way through Italy right here in New Hampshire!

Inspired by authentic Italian cuisine, Priscilla has developed a delightful fall menu to tempt your senses and tease your palate.

This pasta dish is a little teaser to our new fall menu! We will be introducing a new design for new pasta dishes, new presentations for some old favorites, and bringing a piece of Italy to your neighborhood 900 Degrees. Mangia!

PRO TIP FROM PRISCILLA

Over the next three e-news I will share with you some of my experience in Italy. I will cover pizza, pasta and wine. Be sure to 'Like' us on Facebook, too, because we'll have some dedicated albums to showcase some of our great Italian experiences!

Pizza, Pizza, Pizza!

When I finally had the opportunity to go to Italy I could not wait to try the pizza. I had done a lot of research about Neapolitan pizza and had been told by many customers who had been to or came from Italy that we were a true Neapolitan pizza and they loved us! I am so happy to say I was pleasantly surprised when I was able to experience the pizza in Tuscany and surrounding area for myself. 900 Degrees IS bringing the true Neapolitan experience to you right here in New Hampshire.

We had so much fun and tried many different pizzas. That was one of the things I learned while there, even though the pizzas were similar with the same high quality ingredients everyone had their own twist on Neapolitan pizza. Most had wood-fired ovens, but some had high temperature electric ovens. Most had a round shape but a few were square. One of our favorites (which is very traditional Neapolitan) were pizzas with an egg on it. Every time we tried it was called something different and made a little differently. 900 Degrees is going to be adding our own twist to on the new fall menu.

Well enough talk, I hope you enjoy the pictures and feel compelled to stop by and enjoy dinner with us.
